LABOUCHERE'S INDIGNATION.

Jerome K. Jerome Writes that Croker Was Connected with "That Gang of Rescality, Temmany Hall."

LONDON, June 28 .- If certain reports turn out to be correct, and there seems to be no good reason for doubting them, Mr. Richard Croker's colored Willie Simms, is liable to find himself in the hottest kind of hot water. Simms has been amusing himself considerably at Newmarket, and on Monday, June 17. he wagered he would drive a trotter from Newmarket to Cambridge and return within an hour, a distance of about twenty-six miles,

Simms started in a sulky with a com-panion and made Cambridge in quick time. When nearing Newmarget on the return trip the horse dropped dead. It that Simms will probably be arrested as a result of an investigation by the officers of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals

A special officer of the Society was despatched to Newmarket this afternoon, with instructions to thoroughly investigate the story, and if the story proven a warrant for the jockey's arrest will be issued.

The officer has also been instructed to find out if the companion of Simms his drive was Mr. Richard Croker, and if this should turn out to be the case there may be serious trouble in store for Mr. Croker as well.

The action of the R. S. P. C. A. was due to Mr. Jerome K. Jerome and Mr. Henry Labouchere. The latter says in awains in New London Races.

The course on the Thames at New London is not an ideal one, and is selected only because of its convenience for both Harvard and Yale. The only fair race is rowed downstream, and all ways with the tide and within two hours of its flood. The starting flag ! mile below the Yale quarters, and al ost opposite Red Top.

the start is made close to the bank and out of the river channel, so that the first mile of the race is rowed over flats The course is marked by white flags anchored in the water at every half mile. The two-mile flag, or the middle of the course, will be just off the end of the long Navy-Yard dock, and the rac the long Navy-Yard dock, and the cace is u usily decided at this point.

The finish line is at the upper end of the long draw-bridge pier and the boat on the west course goes very near the embankment. Flats, covered with fatal eel-grass, border most of the course, so that much depends on the cosswain's knowledge of the river and his skill in handling the boat.

All of "Covey's" nerve is required always in the last mile of the race, for here the course is lined with yachts, excursion steamers and crafts of every description and a cool head and steady hand are necessary to pass them safely. There is but little difference between the
